

Southern Portugal - Lisbon & the Alentejo

October 4-12, 2025 (9 days, 8 nights)

Take a sensory trip through Central and Southern Portugal, exploring the vibrant city of Lisbon and the picturesque Alentejo region. In Lisbon, wander through cobble streets, savoring traditional Portuguese dishes like pastéis de nata and grilled sardines. Visit historic sites such as Belém Tower and Jerónimos Monastery, soaking in the city's rich cultural heritage. Then, venture into the Alentejo countryside, where vineyards sprawl across rolling hills. Sample exquisite wines like Vinho Verde and Alentejo reds, paired perfectly with local delicacies such as creamy cheeses and succulent cured meats. Immerse yourself in the relaxed pace of life, breathtaking landscapes, and warm hospitality of this enchanting region. Wine cultivation is thought to have been introduced to this land, now Portugal, during the Bronze Age. It was such a good idea that they never stopped cultivating it! The first wines came out of the Lisbon area, in areas where they still produce today, the Setubal and Azeitão regions. Portugal has over 250 native grape varieties and 15 different wine regions, two of which (Douro and Pico Island) are protected by UNESCO. This trip will introduce you to three (3) regions specifically: Colares, Setubal, and Alentejo.

Lisbon, the capital of Portugal, is one of the most beautiful capitals of Europe. It is a quiet city where you can enjoy walking in the narrow streets of the old quarter, resting in the elegant and busy esplanades of downtown, or taking the tram uphill. Here, you can visit impressive monuments of very different eras, Roman times up until modern days, not forgetting the era of the discoveries and the commercial contacts with Asia and India. Lisbon's history is not only in museums but in its streets and buildings. It is a great walking city. (Ladies are advised to wear comfortable shoes and avoid high heels)

05:30 pm – Meet Sam and our local tour host Inês for orientation at Hotel Lisboa Plaza, in Lisbon

06:30 pm – dinner at a local restaurant within walking distance.

October 06 (Monday) – Lisbon – Sintra and Colares

09:15 am—Today, we will take a minibus to Sintra, Portugal's most romantic town, located close to the ocean, 40 minutes drive from Lisbon.

Upon arrival, guided visit to Sintra National Palace.

This is the oldest National Palace in Sintra. It was built over the centuries, probably in the 10th century, when Sintra was still a Moorish town. The king's presence in the palace was frequent over the centuries, not only because it was much cooler than Lisbon but also because hunting was abundant in the area. Today's palace is a mixture of styles, making it a great palace to introduce Portuguese History.

The visit should end by 11:30 a.m. You will have free time to explore Sintra and the small local shops. Eventually, you will visit the Palácio da Regaleira on your own, a private palace with a mystic garden and park. You will have lunch in one of the local restaurants.

03:00 pm – Group meeting and departure to the Colares Winery, the oldest Cooperative Winery in Portugal, dating from 1931. Colares wine region is the smallest in Portugal. It is also one of the oldest demarcated wine regions, dating from 1908. Tasting of two of these unique wines, along with tapas from the region.

06:00 pm – Transfer back to your hotel in Lisbon. Meals included: Breakfast, wine, and tapas tasting.

Dinner on your own. We will have restaurant recommendations.

October 07 (Tuesday) – Leaving for the Alentejo

09:00 am – Time to say goodbye to Lisbon and drive south.

The first stop will be just 45 minutes south of Lisbon, in the region of Alentejo, for a wine tasting. The wine tables from this region are quite appreciated, but most foreign people will immediately recognize the Setubal Moscatel.

We can choose to visit the José Maria da Fonseca Wine Cellar or the exquisite Bacalhoa Wines, which taste can be made in the beautiful Renaissance palace, surrounded by beautiful gardens and Portuguese tiles.

Wine tasting will include tasting the delicious bread and cheese of the region.

After this visit, we can drive directly to Évora, approx. 1h30 drive, or stop for a fresh fish lunch on our own at Setubal (not included). The drive to Évora is pleasant, on the highway, across the green plains of the Alentejo.

Arrival to Évora: We will stay in a 4-star hotel in Évora's old town center for the next four nights. Minibuses are prohibited in the city center but can stop 200 m from the hotel door. We will have porters, but each guest is requested to take his/her hand luggage.

04:30 pm – Evening walking tour in the city center with a local guide.

Évora is the capital city of the province of Alentejo, in the south of Portugal.

Due to its well-preserved old town center, still partially enclosed by medieval walls, and many monuments dating from various historical periods, including a Roman Temple, Évora is a UNESCO World Heritage Site. It is also a member of the Most Ancient European Towns Network.

The history of Évora is more than 2000 years old. It was known as Eborac in the period of the Celts; the Romans conquered it in 57 BC and expanded it into a walled town. Eborac became a flourishing city, as it lay at the junction of several main routes.

During the barbarian period, the city declined. Still, with the arrival of the Moors in 715 AD, it slowly began to prosper again and developed into an agricultural center with a fortress and a mosque. The current character of the city provides evidence of this Moorish influence. In 1165, Évora was conquered by the Portuguese, which has had an important role in Portuguese history ever since.

The walking tour will end in one of the small local restaurants, serving delicious local food.
(sunset will be at 05:35 pm)

Meals included Breakfast, Wine Tasting with cheese and bread, and dinner.

October 08 (Wednesday) – South of Évora

09:00—Departure by minibus. Today, we will discover how much the Romans and the Moors' presence has influenced the local culture over the centuries. This is true in the architecture, with the small, white-washed houses, and in agriculture, wine production, and crafts.

A 40-minute drive will take us to a small village known for its traditional pottery. We will then visit some pottery workshops.

Continue to another small town where the millenary wines of Talha are produced the same way as the Romans did.

Visit a local winery and tasting of this unique wine.

Lunch at a local restaurant.

After lunch, visit the factory where the traditional wool rugs and blankets are handmade, using the same artisanal methods they used when they first started in the 16th century.

03:30 pm — We should be ready to visit the small medieval walled village of Monsaraz, which is on top of a mount and offers amazing views over the plains and the artificial Alqueva Lake.

Monsaraz has nice craft shops and some bars, where people can sit and relax over a glass of wine. It is a great place to watch the sun fade before returning to Évora. (sunset 05:36 pm)
The trip back to the hotel should take approx. 50 minutes. Meals included: Breakfast, wine tasting, lunch

October 9 (Thursday) – Évora – Wine and Cork

09:00 am – Departure to a wine and cork estate located 40 minutes away from Évora.

Upon arrival, we will be greeted and taken on a 4x4 tour around the property, which will explain all about wine and cork.

Wine and local product tasting.

After this tasting, our hosts will take us to a local restaurant for a delicious local lunch.

After lunch, we will proceed to Estremoz, a beautiful town with a castle on top of a hill. Time to visit the Estremoz Puppet Interpretive Center (small clay figures, representing the local culture and professions) or just wander on your own.

Before leaving for our hotel, time for the last wine tasting of the day, a local producer in this region. We will not visit the winemaking area, only the cellar and the shop.
